CFPC Urges Delay on Zoning Change

The Citizens for a Planned Greenbelt (CFPG) Steering Committee has advised council that it recommends retention of the present Springhill Lake properties in the R-18 (multiple-family, apartment) zoning category, until such time as the Maryland National Capital Park and Planning Commission releases its revised Area 13 plan for the College Park-Greenbelt area and the plan is approved by the District Council (County Commissioners).

The Springhill Lake Apartment ownership has requested 24.4 acres of C-O zoning for commercial-office buildings and 6 acres of C-2 (general commercial) for a motel and gas station for the area west of Kenilworth Ave. and north of the Capital Beltway.

The developers are planning near the Beltway a complex of four large office buildings located around a central mall. Surrounding the buildings would be parking space for 2,000 cars, broken by frequent green spaces.

Some distance to the north and east is planned an eight-story motel, with a potential maximum of 250 units, a 1,000 seat auditorium, and a small shopping plaza. Across the access road to the entire development near the new State Roads Commission office building would be a gas station.

In a letter to council, Hal Siegel, CFPG chairman, noted that Springhill Lake ownership dealings with the city over the past years have been most honorable. "However," he said, "zoning decisions cannot be based, as we have all learned, on what the particular owner promises at the time. Properties are resold, and the new owners may develop the land in any way consistent with the zoning category granted."

CFPG felt that a reasoned judgment cannot be made on the application in the absence of an approved Area 13 master plan. This plan was referred back to MNC PPC by the District Council about two years ago for a reduction in proposed densities. A new plan is expected momentarily from MN CPPC.

In addition, Siegel noted that there are large tracts of Greenbelt land, such as the Golden Triangle, whose zoning category are in doubt, pending a decision of the Court of Appeals.

The city's Advisory Planning Board recommended approval of the zoning requests for C-O and C-2. Among the reasons given were the absence in the city of large commercial-office buildings and motels, and the preferability of C-O to residential R-18 as far as traffic load, services required of the city, and attractive appearance are concerned.

The Springhill Lake proposals are included on the agenda for the next city council meeting on Monday, July 10.

Junior Highlights

Cries of joy, mixed with sobs of despair, could be heard among the chatter at Greenbelt Junior High as the last day of school finally arrived. The day was devoted solely to good-byes and an award assembly. Here outstanding students were recognized for various accomplishments achieved during the school year. In this last assembly, clubs were given an opportunity to present small gifts of appreciation to worthy members and sponsors.

Among the many guests present were Mrs. Kuntz and Mayor Smith, who presented the American Legion Awards. Receivers of these top awards were Janet Alcorn and Robert Barto, with Cheryl Champion and Gary Hickle as runners up. The second highest honors, the Eshbaugh Memorial and the Knapp Memorial Awards, went to Martha Sue Risinger and Paul Stombaugh, respectively. Carrying on the Greenbelt tradition, the chorus closed with "May You Always" and "The Greenbelt Song."

POLICE NAB SUSPECT AT BELTWAY BANK

Quick action by Greenbelt police brought about the arrest of a man with a concealed weapon at the newly opened Equitable Trust Bank in the Beltway Plaza Regional Shopping Center on July 3. This same man had been in the bank on Saturday, July 1, first to negotiate a loan and later to withdraw it. Suspicious, bank officials reported the incident to the police.

On Monday morning, around 10:32 a.m., police were called and advised that the same person was coming into the bank. Officer Thomas Von Volkenburgh reached the scene in 3 minutes and while the officer was talking with the manager Michael Kerley and the assistant manager Robert Ostrow, the suspect started to walk slowly out of the bank. Von Volkenburgh followed, asked him to stop and as the man turned around the officer observed a gun in his belt holder. Immediately Von Volkenburgh charged the suspect with having a concealed weapon. The man, who also had an empty valise in his possession, was brought to the station where he was processed and additionally charged as a rogue and vagabond (intent to commit robbery) and having fictitious plates on his car. He was committed in default of $1100 bond. An investigation is also being conducted by the FBI.

John B. Ackley, Regional Vice-President of the Equitable Trust Bank praised both the Greenbelt Police Department and the bank's personnel for the highly professional manner in which they performed. He said, "Officer Von Volkenburgh deserves the highest commendation for his prompt and professional police work. In our opinion, Chief William Lane deserves credit for the manner in which he has trained his personnel. Under his guidance, officers handled the situation in a classic manner." Ackley also recognized Officer John Krob for his cooperation in removing the automobile.

An eyewitness, James Brown, 5-A Ridge, praised Von Volkenburgh for his alertness and speed in averting a possible tragedy.

FIREWORKS

The Fireworks display will be held Saturday night, July 8, at Greenbelt Lake. The Greenbelt Concert Band will feature patriotic selections starting at 7:30 p.m. In the event of rain the festivities will be presented on the next clear night.

Elizabeth Allen Named Greenbelt Librarian

A seven-year resident of Greenbelt, Mrs. Elizabeth Allen, 14-K Ridge, has accepted the post of Branch Librarian for the Greenbelt branch of the Prince Georges County Library. Mrs. Allen, who began work on June 16, is no newcomer to the county library system, having worked in the catalogue department and as a substitute librarian since 1961. She heads a staff which at present includes two full-time desk assistants and may eventually include a children's librarian, when the projected new library building for Greenbelt is completed.

In speaking of her plans for future development of the branch library, Mrs. Allen expressed the hope that the library could be "tied closer to the community." She suggested, for example, that the library might be made more useful to the area schools, perhaps through encouraging class visits. The library might also prepare special exhibits or gather information to augment various civic activities or projects, she noted. She specifically mentioned getting together biographies of composers or featuring other musical materials in connection with concerts like those given in Greenbelt last year by the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra. The Greenbelt Library has a good collection of musical records. "They need to be used more," she said.

Her interest in music dates back to a childhood with musician parents. Professionally she worked as a music librarian at the University of Michigan, where she earned her Masters degree in Library Science and earlier at Roosevelt University in Chicago from which she holds an A.B. She also worked part-time as a cataloguer at the University of Illinois.

In Greenbelt she has been active in the Center School PTA, Twin Pines, GHI, the Greenbelt Symphony Association, the Sitters Club, and the Democratic Club.

GERALD GOUGH ELECTED TO FILL COUNCIL SEAT

Gerald Gough, 19-L Ridge, was named by city council on Friday, June 30, to fill the council vacancy created by David Champion's resignation. Champion's term has 21½ months more to go. A new 5-man council will be elected on September 19.

Gough is presently chairman of the city's Community Relations Advisory Board. He was recently elected by the members of Greenbelt Homes, Inc., to the audit committee and previously from 1964 to May 1967 served on the GHI Board of directors.

During the last State legislative session, he served as administrative assistant to Senator Meyer M. Emanuel, Jr., chairman of the Prince Georges Senate Delegation. Other local activities include leadership in the Greenbelt Freedom of the Press Committee.

Gough is chairman, Social Studies department, at High Point High School, where he has taught for the last eight years.

Balloting

In filling the vacancy, council adopted a novel approach. Mayor Edgar L. Smith explained that prior to Friday's meeting, the council had narrowed the number of candidates who would serve to eight. They were Thomas Dugan, William Feller, Leo Gerton, Ben Goldfaden, Gough, Robert O'Brian, Hal Siegel, and David Ungar.

Council agreed that each member would name three candidates in the first voting. Then they would name two, and, finally, on the next vote, each councilman would make one choice, with the winner requiring three votes (of the four councilmen's votes).

After the second round of voting (with each councilman naming two candidates), the field had been reduced to Gough, Goldfaden, Gerton, Siegel, and Ungar. In the final vote, Gough received three votes and Gerton one. All voting was by secret ballot.

Immediately after the balloting, Gough was sworn in. Gough said he was flattered to be chosen from among the fine persons that had been considered.

Congratulations to Jim Howlin, 10-P Southway, who had a 150 yard hole-in-one shot at the Allview Golf Club in Ellicott City on July 1. Among Jim's happy foursome were Bob Baker, 6-R Plateau, Mel Goldstein, 6-Y Plateau, and Jim Grimes from Allview.

Belated birthday greetings to Junie Goldstein, 6-Y Plateau, who celebrated her sixth birthday.

There was a happy reunion at the Beltway Laundromat the other day when Virginia Beauchamp, 3 Maplewood, encountered Mrs. Mildred Jodry, whom she last saw in Nigeria several years ago. Mrs. Jodry's husband and George Beauchamp were colleagues in the AID program. The Jodrys now reside in Beltsville.

A very happy birthday to Janice Rosetti, 4 Pinecrest, who celebrated her eleventh birthday on July 4.

COUNTY TAX BILLS

Tax bills in Prince Georges County will not be mailed on July 1, as in the past, but will go out instead on August 1 this year only. County officials had to delay printing the bills because legal questions and a special Legislative session left in doubt whether a tax increase might be necessary.

It wasn't — at least in the County real estate tax, though fire tax went up four cents and Park and Planning tax up three cents per $100 property valuation for residents in most parts of the County.

County Treasurer Charles E. Calow pointed out that his office cannot legally accept any payments until bills are printed and received. Even after the August 1 mailing date a 60-day payment period will be in effect and no interest charge will be made until after October 1.
